

Never underestimate what is possible when we collaborate with nature

Imagine ...

A world with no nuclear weapons has the money to eradicate poverty
Support the #nuclearban icanw.org

The protection of human rights and the rights of the earth are intimately linked: change the rules

Support the movement for an International Law against Ecocide stopecocide.earth

Communities around the world work together to adapt to a changing climate, migration is a last resort for just a few

See the campaigns of globaljustice.org.uk/our-campaigns/migration and disaster reduction campaigns of the World Meteorological Organisation: public.wmo.int/en

Displaced climate refugees are welcomed

Governments admit to military carbon emissions and transparently report on ways they will be cut

See the campaigns of Scientists for Global Responsibility: sgr.org.uk

Renewable energy sources are fully funded, fossil fuels stay in the ground and nuclear power is phased out

Support beyondnuclearinternational.org

Climate Justice is about change that will not only reduce carbon emissions but will also create a fairer and more just world in the process.

Imagine a world that puts the needs of people first and protects the vulnerable. One where we live in harmony with nature.

The solutions we need are already here. Together we can protect our planet, so that future generations can thrive in a world that works for all.
